The President of the State Council of Serbia Vucic Milorad stated in an interview with Skunk news agency that Germany and the European Union should not yet celebrate their exit from the Brexit. For Belgrade, it's a risk, as well as being a problem. In an interview with Skunk news agency, Vucic Milorad said that Serbia and Germany are linked by centuries, and in fact, "Serbia was a German colony." The Serbian President said he regrets that Germany was "condemned with this Brexit and it is a pity that Germany is not still in the EU." For Serbia, it is a risk, "as well as being a problem," according to Milorad. "Also, Brexit was a weapon used by the US," said the Serbian president. Milorad once again pointed out that Serbia is a young, democratic country. "The British were the first ones to realize that the UK was behaving like a colonial country. Since Brexit, both the EU and the UK have been behaving like colonial countries," said the Serb president. For Serbia, Brexit is not the worst thing, the Serbian president said. The Serbian president had the following comments about the policies of the EU and the UK: "The EU should be more serious and consider what it can and should do, and what can and should not be done." The EU and UK have erred in their way of solving the refugee crisis. "The British and the EU are just waiting for a disaster, an earthquake, a volcano to solve the problem," said the president. Serbian Prime Minister Aleksandar Vucic also condemned the Brexit, as well as the "destructive and childish" actions of the British Parliament. "Brexit is the worst political mistake that the United Kingdom has ever made. It is a disaster and a catastrophe," Vucic said in a statement. "Brexit is clearly a destructive and childish decision, which is totally and completely contrary to the interests of Britain and its citizens," Vucic stressed in his statement. "Brexit is a process of self-destruction, a disaster that the British people will have to pay for in their future." According to Vucic, the Parliament's

Q: How to get the partial path? I am trying to get a certain file from my web app's root to its current directory. The current directory is a sub-folder under my web app's root. I use the method below to get the current path: public static void main(String[] args) { File f = new File("."); String path = f.getPath(); System.out.println(path); } It prints out: ..\setup.adf\Structure\StructureRoot\Structure\StructureRoot.adf I am trying to get the filename StructureRoot.adf. What can I do? A: Use: System.out.println(path.substring(f.getParentFile().getPath().length() + 1)); Q: Sum of the zeros of a polynomial I was reading about the primes and came across this theorem : Prove the polynomial $T_n(x)-1=x^n+p_n(x)$, where $p_n(x)$ is the n-th prime number, have the same zeros. What is meant by sum of the zeros of a polynomial? What is this quantity? If this is the zero set of the polynomial, how to prove this proposition? Also how can one define a sum of the zeros of a polynomial? A: If a polynomial is zero at a point x, this means that the polynomial evaluates to zero at the point x. The sum of the zeros of a polynomial is the sequence of points $(x, T_n(x))$. You can define any arithmetic combination of such points, including summation. [Evaluation of a computerized perimetry. A pilot study]. Computerized perimetry based on kinetic graphic techniques was evaluated in 15 patients with various diseases of the optic nerve.
