To be honest, I'm not entirely sure if I have owned this game.

Game Freak (the Pokemon people), publish the game as ZZT, an acronym for "Zakkumon Tecnolojik Toki", which translates from Japanese to "Nonsensical Technical Stuff." According to Game Freak, ZZT is a series of video games about cats stopping people from completing chores.

PS: If you have any questions send them through the web-site and I will try and answer them Wow! This game looks like it was made by a kid at school with 30min spare time and the end result was a pretty good game. The graphics looks cheap but good and the sound is awesome! I'm not that much of a gamer but I'm just addicted to the Youtube videos that I've been watching lately and I'm amazed how well these games make their way from one system to another. Anyway, so what I liked: The graphics was nice and fun! Even if the graphics was a bit bad the game looked awesome! I'm a board game addict and I usually don't play console games, this made me go "wow, this is awesome!". If only there were more games like this one then I would be playing them all the time! The gameplay was a good fun, even if it was a bit simple! I had a fair amount of fun trying to figure out how the game went. It got a bit repetitive for me after a while but that was only because of the repetitive gameplay. In the end, the game took me about 20minutes to beat. That's not too bad, just to get a good feel about the game. The sound was top notch! The sound was a bit fast, I'm not the kind of person that hears everything that's happening but I didn't mind it that much. I'm guessing that it was compressed or something to get the game to finish so soon. The overall game was a bit short. I would have liked it if the game had gone on longer. It is a pity but it's
