This is a fun and challenging Japanese language learning game. When you first open the game, you'll get a short introduction in Japanese. You'll also see an over-head view of the chapter list and the current chapter. This gives you a good visual reference of where you are and allows you to change chapters at any time. There are two types of activities for this game: - Hiragana Battle - This is the main game (backbone of the game) - Hiragana Vocabulary - Hiragana Battle - You can learn to read and write hiragana characters and japanese Kanji (Chinese characters) - Hiragana Vocabulary - You must know hiragana characters before starting this section Japanese Kanji: There are two different types of vocabularies in this game: - Hiragana Kanji - The list of hiragana kanji characters - Kanji Vocab - This is to help you learn the Kanji and you'll know in Japanese when you encounter them on a menu or when written on a wall. The game will present you with a Kanji vocabularly, depending on the situation: When you enter new hiragana characters into a JTextComponent, they will be converted from katakana to hiragana. As you encounter hiragana, it will begin replacing katakana in the word. [Kanji Vocab] There are 5 different rows of Kanji vocabulary that you can choose. 1. Hiragana Kanji - A list of hiragana kanji characters. You can have up to 10 characters in the vocabulary at once. 2. Kanji Vocab - A set of characters that are useful in Japanese. This is the first set in the game. 3. Hiragana Vocab - A second set of characters that are useful in Japanese. This is the second set in the game. 4. Hiragana Kanji - A third set of characters that are useful in Japanese. This is the third set in the game. 5. Kanji Vocab - A fourth set of characters that are useful in Japanese. This is the fourth set in the game. About Us: SuperNova is a small, self-funded team. We are a team of enthusiastic individuals, living in Vancouver and love to create great content for everyone. - Each character has two forms to help you learn them: Hiragana and Katakana - The Katakana form is the top part of the character - The Hiragana form is the bottom part of the character - You can only view the Hiragana form in the game - To learn a character, tap it and make sure your sound volume is turned up. If you don't see the Hiragana form, tap the Katakana form to show the Hiragana. - Each character has a Strength rating (from zero to 100) - The higher the Strength rating, the harder it is to confuse it with other characters - Characters with the same Strength rating are essentially the same character. - Once you learn a character, try to use it to practice your reading - An automatic scanner will come along and show you any character you've had trouble reading, click it to learn it right away - The game counts as 10 different "cards" - Earn 10 cards to get a Random Card! - This card can be used to learn any character at any time - At any time you can earn a total of 3 Random Cards - Random cards are earned at 100% Strength, which means 50/50 if you swipe a random card from the queue - A queued card will always be played first, even if it's not the strongest - Each card is a certain number of points. - When you earn a character card, it shows the character name as the icon above the character and a point value along the top - This means that the highest point value is worth 25 points, 10 cards would yield 1,000 points for the game! - Characters are divided into sub groups - Characters within one group have the same Strength and Skill (Circles) - The highest circle rating character is worth 20 points, 5 cards would yield 200 points for the game - Characters are worth: + 1 point per minute you have been playing the game + 25 points for each character + 500 points for obtaining the entire character set + 1000 points for reaching level 3 + 2000 points for reaching level 6 + 5000 points for reaching level 9 + 10000 points for reaching level 12 + 20000 points for reaching level 15 - Each character has 5 skills - You can only view 5 skills at once, and each skill is shown as a number of cards - You can only view 1 skill at a time d41b202975

Playable Characters To Create... It is possible to create Hiragana Battles without playing the game, however this is challenging and not advised.Creating a character and fighting without watching the tutorial videos is a bit of a grey area in this game.The game's tutorial states that creating characters can be done at anytime, however, we've found that this isn't entirely true.We had to create several characters before the character creation tutorial would advance to the next stage.We created four playable characters:Cupid [+] Falco [+] Helios [+] AtumSaving Character...and Loading Changing Saves It is possible to save and load games.The game will attempt to save game states while playing, however due to our game's limitations, it will not always save the game properly.To change saves: Navigate to the folder where you are saving the save to.- Rename the save as you wish. - Make sure the file exists.- Enter the game and start a fight. - Stop playing and go back to the save.The save should be highlighted on the list in the upper-right corner. Viewing Characteristic Statistics While playing the game, the top-left of the screen displays the statistics for each of the characters on screen.It's possible to view multiple characters on the same screen, however only the two character's statistics will be displayed.Statistics will be displayed in the following format:Statistic - Rank - Character Name - Stage 1 - Stage 2 - Stage 3 A complete list of all the statistics can be viewed in the game's Character List window.Navigate to the [GAME MENU]>[CHEATS] tab, then scroll to [Statistics] in the left-side menu. Use the [UP ARROW] key to move to the next rank of statistics, and the [DOWN ARROW] key to move to the previous rank.The following table displays all of the statistics available in the game.Character Inverse Statistics Character Inverse Statistics -stage 1-stage 2-stage 3-cupid,falco,helios,atum - [WHEN

SELECTED] - [AFTER SELECTED] - [STAGE]Atum - [WHEN SELECTED] - [AFTER SELECTED] - [STAGE]cupid,falco,helios,atum - [WHEN SELECTED] - [AFTER SELECTED] - [STAGE]
